2   Introduction

From December 2023 until March 2024, the LISS panel[1] completed a questionnaire on politics and values.

The survey was split into three parts. Part 1 was fielded in December 2023 (repeated in January 2024), Part 2 in January 2024 (repeated in February 2024), and Part 3 in February 2024 (repeated in March 2024).

For each part of this questionnaire, the data are collected in two months of field work. At the time of data collection for this wave, new panel members were being recruited to the LISS panel. The panel members who joined the panel during the first fieldwork month couldn't participate in the first fieldwork month and were therefore selected for the second fieldwork month.

Wave 16
This questionnaire is part of the sixteenth wave of the LISS Core Study, a longitudinal survey delivering a broad range of social core information about the panel members.

Response
Part 1 of the questionnaire was presented to 7,312 panel members, and it was filled out by 6,303 respondents (response percentage 86.2%).
Part 2 of the questionnaire was presented to 7,432 panel members, and it was filled out by 6,334 respondents (response percentage 85.2%).
Part 3 of the questionnaire was presented to 7,480 panel members, and it was filled out by 6,337 respondents (response percentage 84.7%).

Changes compared to the previous wave:
Below is an overview of all deleted, new and changed or replaced questions.

Textual changes:
{intropov1} - part 1, {intropov1} - part 2 - sentence added ("You may recognize some questions from another questionnaire about the recent elections.")
{intropov1} - part 3 - sentence added ("You may recognize some questions from another questionnaire about the November 2023 elections.")
cv24p053, cv24p307 - date elections changed cv24p321, cv24p325 - "Volt Nederland" changed to "Volt" cv24p119 - "Dutch citizens" changed to "Dutch citizens without foreign origin"

3   Codebook

This codebook contains the questionnaire as administered to the LISS panel.

- Variable names: The variable names are printed in bold and correspond to the names in the dataset.
- The questionnaire routing is printed in bold and colored blue for each variable concerned.
  - = means "is equal to"
  - != means "is not equal to"
  - <= means "smaller or equal to"
  - >= means "larger or equal to"
- If there were buttons on a page for "I don't know, "I refuse to say" or "Not applicable", this will be indicated at the top at "Page" (when the button is clicked, the corresponding value is written to all variables that were present on the page)
- text: answer box (no limit to the length of the answer).
- string: answer box allowing a certain number of characters (standard is 255).
- empty: questions could be left unanswered
- Numerical variables: If ranges were used, these are printed in italics in the codebook if the respondent could not see them on the screen. If the respondent was able to see the ranges, the variables are printed in normal letter. Integer: If a question is not subject to any limit (integer), no range is indicated.
- 'Fills' (variable text) are given between straight brackets [].
- Variables in between curly brackets {} are not part of the dataset, but the corresponding questions or text were part of the questionnaire.

{intropov1}
This questionnaire is about your views on politics and values.
This questionnaire is repeated every year.

We administer the questionnaire in three parts. You have now started on the first part. The second part will be administered next month (January). The third part will be administered in February.

Each year, a number of questionnaires are re-administered, this as your answers enable us to measure changes over the years.
You may recognize some questions from another questionnaire about the recent elections.
For example, a recurring questionnaire on politics and values measures if there have been changes in the Dutch' political views and values over the past year.

This questionnaire is about your views on politics and values. This questionnaire is repeated every year.

We administer the questionnaire in three parts. You have now started on the third and last part.

Each year, a number of questionnaires are re-administered, this as your answers enable us to measure changes over the years.
You may recognize some questions from another questionnaire about the November 2023 elections.
For example, a recurring questionnaire on politics and values measures if there have been changes in the Dutch' political views and values over the past year.
